Los organizadores gráficos son herramientas simples pero poderosas que pueden ayudar a los niños que tienen disgrafía, dificultades del funcionamiento ejecutivo y otras condiciones que pueden causar problemas para escribir. Un organizador gráfico no solo ayuda a dividir un proyecto en pasos más pequeños, también ayuda a que los niños organicen sus ideas de manera visual.

Existen muchos tipos diferentes de organizadores visuales. Los cinco aquí disponibles son usados comúnmente en primaria, pero pueden ayudar a los chicos hasta el bachillerato. Cada uno también trae un ejemplo de cómo luce un organizador gráfico cuando está completo.

Todo lo que necesita hacer para usar estos organizadores gráficos es imprimirlos (los diseños tan sencillos que usted podrá trazarlos a mano rápidamente) y llenarlos. Si su hijo prefiere usar la computadora para escribir, puede completar el organizador y luego imprimirlo. Escoger el tema apropiado es otra manera en la que usted puede fomentar que su hijo escriba más.

Topic: How to make a bird feeder out of a paper towel roll.

1st step: Get your materials: an empty paper towel roll, peanut butter, birdseed, 2 popsicle sticks, and a piece of yarn or an old shoelace.

2nd step: Have an adult poke two holes about an inch from the top of the paper towel roll.

3rd step: Thread the yarn or shoelace through the holes to create a loop.

4th step: Have an adult cut two sets of slits in the paper towel roll – one set an inch from the bottom, the other set near the middle.

5th step: Insert a popsicle stick through each set of slits, leaving room for birds to perch on each side.

6th step: Spread lots of peanut butter on the paper towel roll.

7th step: Cover the peanut butter with birdseed.

Last step: Hang your bird feeder outside.
